The question for this take-home final exam asks you to examine the impact of the opening of a garbage incinerator on housing values in North Andover, MA. The data for the exercise are a subset of the data in the paper: K.A. Kiel and K.T. McClain (1995): "House Prices During Siting Decision Stages: The Case of an Incinerator from Rumor Through Operation," Journal of Environmental Economics and Management 28, 241-255.

Background:

The construction of a new garbage incinerator in North Andover in the early 1980s was controversial due to the increases in ambient pollution that it would create. Rumors of the incinerator began after 1978. The construction started in 1981, and the incinerator began operating in 1985. In Economics, land market theory suggests that local amenities are capitalized in housing values, and predicts that the prices of houses located near the incinerator would fall compared to the price of houses located further away from the incinerator. By 1981, you can assume that all market participants had full information on the upcoming garbage incinerator, so that housing values had capitalized the upcoming arrival of the incinerator.

Data:

The authors of the paper collected data on prices of houses that sold in 1978 (before the upcoming construction of the incinerator was public knowledge) and in 1981 (after the construction had started). The key variables for the analysis are: rprice (inflation-adjusted sales price of house), nearinc (=1 if house located near the incinerator, =0 otherwise), age (age of the house), land (square footage of the lot), area (square footage of the house), rooms (number of rooms in the house), and a year indicator (1978 or 1981). These variables are contained in the CSV file KM_EDS241.csv.
